Profile

My name is Edgar Santiago and I am a highly skilled, motivated and experienced professional with 9 years of experience in the tech industry. I possess a strong skill set in software development, as well as expertise in building scalable and efficient systems. I am a proactive and critical thinker with a talent for problem solving.

I am also known for my creativity, patience, and determination. Additionally, I am experienced in both backend and frontend development with proficiency in technologies such as Javascript, Typescript, Flutter, React, Laravel, and developing for hardware.

Some of the notable projects I have contributed to include:

- The development of an e-learning platform comprising of a web platform and a set of mobile applications for administrators and users. This project was implemented utilizing Laravel for the front-end and back-end, Flutter for the mobile applications, and integration of third-party services such as Stripe and AWS.
- Participation in the development of a last-mile delivery platform, which was later acquired by a major player in the region. The administrator portal was developed using React, and the back-end utilizing Node.js. Mobile applications were developed using Flutter.
- Involvement in the hardware development for pharmaceutical events held across Mexico in various cities. This included the implementation of a local network, development of mobile applications for visitors to generate purchase orders securely and the design and production of hardware for user registration and interaction. Everything was created using Laravel, Kotlin, Python and Javascript.
- Additionally, I have worked on several startups in the past which collectively serve thousands of users. These experiences have provided me with valuable insights into the startup ecosystem, and honed my skills in developing and scaling products to meet the needs of a growing user base.

My career goals are to work in an environment where I can utilize my skills and experience to develop creative solutions for the organization. I am interested in leading a team and mentoring others to help them reach their full potential. In the long term, I have aspirations of starting my own company and becoming an entrepreneur. I am motivated to be a leader in my field and to drive success for the organization. I am constantly seeking for new challenges and opportunities to grow as a professional.
